Promoting Communication And Collaboration

One of Three New Principals, Dr. Bolden, to Speak at East End Neighbors August 28 Meeting

Three of our local schools have new leadership: Dr. Brian Bolden is the new principal at McNair Discovery Learning Academy (elementary). He had recently served as principal at Stephenson High. He succeeded Dr. Marchell Boston, who has moved to Stone Mill Elementary. Annette Williams is the new principal at McNair Middle School, succeeding Susan Freeman, who moved to Flat Shoals Elementary. Finally, Glynis Jordan is the new principal at McNair High. James Jones, former McNair High principal, is now at Stone Mountain

High. East End Neighbors has invited all three principals to come to our next meeting, or to send a representative. Come out and welcome our new school leaders! (Thanks to CrossroadsNews.com 8/11/12 for the summary of principal moves and for the picture of Dr. Bolden.)

With the passing of Ms Davis, we lost one of our leaders

The team of the East End Neighbors Newsletter was sad to hear of the passing of Ms Davis. Our Condolences to her family and friends. Her example of community-minded leadership will not be forgotten.

Eva Belle Favours Davis, 76, died June 5 at her residence in Villages at East Lake of complications of ovarian cancer. Mrs. Davis was among the earliest residents of East Lake Meadows, moving in with her children shortly after it opened in 1971. Soon she was elected president of its tenants association. She led rent strikes against the AHA to win improvements such as better outdoor lighting, more sidewalks and a day care center. She persevered in her mission of community upgrade even as dope peddlers turned the housing project into a war zone with the infamous nickname of “Little Vietnam.”

In the mid-1990s, the elements essential to remaking East Lake Meadows – financing, vision, determination – came into alignment. With the support of the AHA and developer Tom Cousins, the East Lake community embarked on a multi-year, $125 million residential remake, gaining fresh amenities like a charter school, a YMCA and a PGA championship course.

“Eva Davis was a passionate and effective leader for her community, a skilled negotiator and someone for whom we have tremendous respect,” Mr. Cousins said. “Her legacy will live on in the success of the children of East Lake.”
